Collector Out.

Douglas, Ariz, May 10 .- Jose Rundail, stamp inspector for the Moctezuma district, has called upon the state government of Sonora for troops to enforce Mormon colonists at Colonia Morales. This action is said to have followed an attempt at personal and foreible collection, in which the collector and his two assistants came off a bad second best. Randall, in his statement to the govcrament, says that he went to the col-ony and demanded the taxes, but the colonists refused absolutely to pay. Upon his attempting to levy upon their goods to secure the amount due, he declares that he was set upon and beaten, then driven out of the colony. He now demands that the government place a sufficient number of troops at his command to allow him to make colfort and the ludignity he alleges was placed upon him as a representative of the government. Randall is said to have credentials from the prefecto of Moctexuma and the presidence of Fron-

The Colonists' Side.

The colonists tell an entirely different story of the affair. Randall, they say, came to the colony late last week, and, without preliminary demand for taxes or any other statement, commenced levying upon the livestock of the colonists. They say that he first went to the home of a man residing in the outskirts of the colony and, without showing any ordentials or making any the courseirs of the colony and, without showing any credentials or making any specific demand for taxes, selzed a fine team of work mules.
